FUN ON WHEELS.

Preparations For the Bicycle Race Are Now Perfect.

Good Sport Promised To-Day-A Chat With the English Champion.

The last meeting of the Capital Belycle club, before the races, was held Saturday evening, and all of the final arrangements were made. The semi-annual election of officers resulted as follows: President, Leland

Howard (re-elected); vice president, Leland Howard (re-elected); vice president, Charles Flint; secretary, Frank R. Lane; treasurer, F. C. Donn (re-elected); captain, L. W. Seely (re-elected); subcaptain, T. C. Tipton; junior subcaptain, John T. Loomis; executive committee, the officers, and T. A. Berryhill, S. P. Moses, jr., and N. D. Cram.

Prince, Higham, and Rollinson visited the Athletic park yesterday and were thoroughly well pleased with the track. Prince states that by September it will be the fastest track in the country, if not in the world. Prince is so much pleased with Washington that he talks of locating here. He is accompanied by his wife, a pretty little lady, who is an admirable tricycle rider."

The Baltimore men are greatly excited over their mile race. The whole of the Maryland club wished to enter, but, as that was imposclub wished to enter, but, as that was impossible, only nine of their best men will participate. Capt. King relegraphs that thirty-five men will be on hand.

The riders of the American Star, from Smithville, N. J., arrived here Sunday morning. Burt Pressey was seen here last fall, and some of his feats of trick riding are marvelous. He rides over a twelve inch timber at full speed, reverses his little wheel while in motion, and clears his whole machine with one leap. Frank Howard, of New York city, brings with him two silver cups which he won Saturday at the races of the New York club. He will prove nearly, if not quite, a match for Mac Borden; but Mac says that he hasn't eschewed pie and soda water for a month for nothing. Borden, by the way, brake the back boge of his machine in practice on Friday. He has secured another mount, how-his time.

P. T. Dodge, the referee, cut short his northern trip and arrived home Saturday night in time to take an active part in the closing arrangements. Mr. Dodge's long experience as a boating man, and with other sporting affairs, makes him invaluable at a time like this

The judges for the Abner prize, for the most graceful river, will watch the parade from an accompanying carriage and their decision will be announced at the Athletic park. All of the prizes are now on exhibition at

The parade will start from the club rooms in the LeDroit building at 3:30 p. m. this afternoon, reaching the Athletic park at 4:15. The route will be E street, Eleventh, Pennsylvania avenue, Fifteenth, K, Verment avenue, F, Tenth, M, and Ninth. Capt. Seely, of the Capital club, will command. The first division will consist of the Capital, Maryland, Westernoon of the Capital Maryland, Washington Cycle, and Star clubs. The second division, under Capt. Allen, will be composed of "unattached" riders. BACKS TO-DAY.

WEDNESDAY'S COMING

Inauguration of the B. & O.'s Special Weekly Trips to the Far Famed Caverns of Luray.

The B. & O. inaugurates its every Wednesday special excursions to Luray Caverns this week, and they promise to be the elite trips of the summer. Certainly every care has en taken to make them such. The most this part of the country have been provided for these occasions, and a new and de-cidedly pleasing innovation is the numbering of seats and the arrangements perfected for rerving every excursionist a seat for the round ip. To this end diagrams of the cars have een prepared, and the choice of seats offered precisely as in parlor and sleeping cars. Upon purchase of ticket a coupon is given noting the seat reserved, thus obviating any rush for the cars either prior to the start or the re-Already several parties have been made up for the Luray trip and seats engaged so that all will be together. Only such number of cars will be taken from Washington as will consortably accommodate one hundred and fifty people, and when that number of tickets are sold the sale will close. This admirable feature will be appreciated by those who dislike crowds, as it will render the entertainment of the excursionists certain and afford all plenty of elbow room on route as well as within the caverus. It should be borne in mind that at Luray the arrangements are such as to make a change of clothing unneces-sary, a full and most thorough inspection of all pertions of the caverns being permitted without inconvenience of any description. The effect of the electric light within the caverns is indescribably awe-inspiring, and whether underground or above ground the trip to Luray is one of unending charm. The trip to Luray is one of unending charm. The hotel is a most delightful place. Built in the Queen Annestyle of architecture, there are numberless shady porches, while within the quaint form of structure and the beautiful furnishing causes one to wish that the time given to remain were days instead of hours. The B. & O. special excursion trains will be run through on fast time, making no stops and with no change of cars. Leaving at 5:30 in the morning, the arrival will be at 1. S:30 in the morning, the arrival will be at 1, and after four hours in the caverns the excursionists will embark for the return trip at 5, reaching home at 10:40. No question should e entertained as to making the trip promptly on time, as every means have been taken to insure it. With every excursion there will be a special conductor whose sole duty will be to give information and look out for the comfort and entertainment of the passengers. Thoroughly conversant with the country traversed, as well as with the caverus, he traversed, as well as with the caveras, he will be found a valuable guide and contribute largely to the pleasure of the day. The rate fixed for the round is very low, $3.50, which includes admission to the caveras.

AN INSURANCE INQUIRY.

The Commissioners Considering the Prob lem of Insuring the School Property.

Commissioners West and Edmonds are mak-ing inquiries in regard to the responsibilities in good condition, and that they can carry out their part of the contract. If they can do this, and will underwrite on the same terms as responsible agency companies, he is in favor of giving local people the business, otherwise not. "I want to do this business on busiwise not. "I want to do this business on business principles, and precisely as I would if I were doing it for myself," he said.

Commissioner West was glad to see inquiries made in this direction. He was an anxious inquirer himself, and wanted light as much as anybody. He wanted light as much as anyony. He knew of no serious discrimination against home companies as stated in an insurance communication published a few days ago. The home companies are taxed $1,500 on every $100,000 of capital stock, but the agency companies are taxed on their business. again agency companies pay tax on their capital in the states under whose laws they are organized. It is not clear where the discrimination comes in.

The committee reported the facts in the case, viz.: The refusal of the Columbia club to co-operate with the majority of the clubs in arranging for the regatta, and asked for instructions. A general interchange of views was then held by the members present, the unanimous feeling being that the club should. for its own credit, proceed to work and make the affair as successful as possible under the circumstances. The committee was continued in force to act in concert with the Potomacs, with the understanding that they should do everything in their power to advance the
